

Useful information.

NAVIGATION BAR

By using this bar you can access the Home Page or any other page you wish to go to at any time.

SEARCH

By using this field, which is displayed on every page of our site, it is possible to search for all products that are in the catalog. The search is performed by inserting the code or product description in the search field; it is possible to specify more than one word by separated by spaces.

CATEGORIES

Under this heading it is possible to see the categories of the articles in this catalog. Bly clicking on one of the selections in the list of “Products” shown on the left side of the page, only the corresponding categories will appear. This feature allows you to more quickly find the category of product you wish to purchase. Each product has in-depth technical specifications in which you can find detailed information displayed in a standard, complete, and thorough fashion.CART

This area displays a real-time update of the number of products ordered and the total cost of your order.

INFORMATION

This area provides useful information for your purchases and allows you to download the price list in PDF format.

NEWSLETTER

To receive your copy of our newsletter please insert your surname and e-mail address and then click on “invia” (submit) to confirm your registration; once you are registered, you will receive information concerning offers, sneak previews, and new items to be released.

PRIVACY

Information concerning privacy policy.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

Clicking on this field will lead you to all of the links necessary to understand our purchase procedures, general sales conditions, what to do in case of packages that have been damaged or tampered with, and the procedure to make a return.

CONTACTS

A list of our e-mail addresses and telephone and fax numbers is provided for your convenience to contact us and to receive information and assistance.